CREDENTIALS

Seating at Market Square Arena's press tables is restricted to accredited working media representatives. Non-working media will be seated in reserved seat areas when seats are available. Single game credentials must be requested no later than noon the day before the game (Friday noon for Sunday games). You may request credentials by faxing, on company letterhead, to the Media Relations Department at (317) 263-2127, or by writing, on company letterhead, to the Media Relations Department, 300 E. Market St., Indianapolis, IN 46204. Credentials are good for admittance to the arena, media room and home and visiting locker rooms. Pre-arranged credentials may be picked up before the game at the media gate. MEDIA MEMBERS HOLDING PACERS' SEASON PASSES SHOULD NOTIFY THE MEDIA RELATIONS OFFICE IF PLANNING TO COVER A GAME IN ORDER TO RESERVE SEATING. CREDENTIALS MUST BE VISIBLE AT ALL TIMES.

AUTOGRAPHS

SEEKING AUTOGRAPHS OR SOUVENIR ITEMS FROM PLAYERS OR COACHES IS STRICTLY PROHIBITED AND SUBJECT TO FORFEITURE OF CREDENTIAL.

MEDIA ENTRANCE

The media entrance is located on the third floor level, northwest entrance of MSA (300 E. Market Street). Only media members who hold Indiana Pacers or NBA media credentials will be admitted through this entrance.

MEDIA ROOM

Located on the northeast corner of MSA's floor level (3rd floor). We must limit media room usage to members of the media only when valid Pacers or NBA media passes are presented. It is impossible to accommodate family members, friends, guests or others. The professional intent of the room is to provide a meeting and working place for the media and game personnel. Any abuse of the media room and/or media privileges will cause forfeiture of your media pass.

SERVICES

Complete statistics along with pre-game press notes, line-ups, information regarding injuries, and other pertinent facts will be furnished by the Pacers' Media Relations Department. Play-by-play and halftime box scores will be delivered directly to the press table and complete final boxes, fourth quarter play-by-plays, players' and coaches' quotes will be available following the game in the media room. FAX — The Indiana Pacers will provide one fax machine for use in the media room.

PRESS ROW

Your cooperation is asked in maintaining a working atmosphere at press row. Smoking is prohibited in Market Square Arena.

LOCKER ROOMS

Both the Pacers' and visitors' locker rooms will be open up to 45 minutes before game time and 10 minutes after the game.

PHOTO GUIDELINES

Only those photographers on assignment will be allowed space on the floor and their PHOTO CREDENTIALS MUST BE WORN PROMINENTLY AT ALL TIMES. Credentials are good for admittance to the arena, media room and the designated photographer areas on the MSA floor. Only television photographers doing post-game interviews will have access to locker room areas. Photographers are allowed only within the designated photographers' area at each end of the court. Spaces will be assigned by the Media Relations Department.

All photographers and TV cameramen must stay at least four feet behind the baseline at all times. In the event it is not physically possible to achieve this in certain arenas, an appropriate standard will be determined by the Media Relations Department and the NBA.

Photographers must remain stationary and seated at all times, except at quarter breaks and halftime.

Photographers are not permitted on the court at any time during the game.

No food or drink is allowed on the playing floor.

Photographers cannot shoot from public walkways or vomitories.

If space is available, photographers may request to shoot from the media seating in the stands.

When placing tape on the playing floor, authorization must be received by either the Media Relations Department or Market Square Arena staff.

RUBBER LENS SHADES

In order to reduce the risk of injury to players, rubber lens shades are now required for all still photographers, broadcasters, news and entertainment video and film crews who are authorized to shoot NBA game action. Any additional light sources or sun guns must either be removed or covered with bubble wrap.

Rubber lens covers are available by contacting:

Bruce A. Kwitny
Robert's Distributors, Inc.
255 S. Meridian St.
Indianapolis, IN 46225
(800) 726-5544
(317) 636-5793 (FAX)

The only exception to this policy will be for those photographers utilizing telephoto lenses (i.e. 300 and 400 mm lenses) when such lenses are used to shoot game action at the opposite end of the court. These lenses must be stored behind the photographer when the action is in the near side of the court.

EQUIPMENT

Photographers located on the baseline or sideline will be permitted only one standard size "Domke' bag which must be placed behind the photographer during the game. Equipment not needed during the game must be stored off-court. One additional camera can be stored either beside or directly behind the photographer.

Each photographer will be permitted one monopod--NO TRIPODS--at courtside. No stand-alone remotes or seats other than "lawn-type" photographer seats will be permitted.

All film should be unpacked before the game and all trash should be properly disposed of by the photographer.

LOCKER ROOMS

No still photography is permitted in the either teams' locker room.

CLOTHING

All photographers must leave any outer wear, i.e. coats, hats, gloves, etc., in the Media Room during game action.

TV NEWS CREWS

Credential requests must be received by Noon the day of the game. They are restricted to crowd interviews, outside the sixth level entrance (weather permitting) or inside the sixth level ticket lobby. They must be accompanied by a member of the Pacers' staff. During game action, news crews must shoot crowd reaction from designated areas. Check with the Media Relations Department or Market Square Arena staff for locations.

INTERNATIONAL MEDIA POLICY

International media interested in covering NBA regular season games must first submit a request in writing to the NBA league office. Please do not contact the Pacers individually.

All credential requests must be received at least three business days prior to the first games requested.

Photo identification will be required when picking up confirmed credentials at the media entrance.

Requests must be FAXED to the attention of:

ADRIANNE SCULLY (NBA INTERNATIONAL)
(212) 407-8044

Additional information on international media policies may be obtained by contacting Adrianne Scully at (212) 407-8252.

MARKET SQUARE ARENA

This season is a special one for the Indiana Pacers and their home, Market Square Arena.

This is the 25th Anniversary Season for the Pacers playing in MSA and, like the 24 seasons before, it figures to add to the many memories. It also will be the Pacers' final regular season playing in MSA before they move to their new home, Conseco Fieldhouse, for the 1999-2000 season.

For the Pacers, MSA was home when the team played in the American Basketball Association before they joined the National Basketball Association in 1976.

In the previous 24 seasons, MSA was the setting for the inaugural game, a preseason game against the Milwaukee Bucks with Kareem Abdul-Jabbar; the thrilling "Hang 'Em High" ABA playoff series against San Antonio in 1975; the first NBA regular season game against the Boston Celtics in 1976; NBA Playoff runs to the Eastern Conference Finals in 1994, '95 and '98; Michael Jordan's return game in March of 1995; great individual performances from Pacers, such as: Billy Knight, Don Buse, Darnell Hillman, Butch Carter, Dudley Bradley, Herb Williams, Detlef Schrempf, Vern Fleming, Reggie Miller, Rik Smits, Dale Davis and Mark Jackson; and great individual performances from opponents, such as: Jordan, Pete Maravich, George Gervin, Magic Johnson, Moses Malone, Julius Erving, Larry Bird and Bob McAdoo.

Market Square Arena opened in 1974 after being designed by Kennedy, Brown and Associates and constructed by Huber, Hunt and Nichols, Inc. Groundbreaking ceremonies were conducted Oct. 20, 1971, and the building was officially opened Sept. 15, 1974. The Pacers played the Bucks in the first basketball game, Sept. 28, 1974, and lost to San Antonio, 129-121, in double overtime in their first regular season appearance in the building, Oct. 18, 1974.

Five nights later, the Pacers had their first victory in MSA, a 122-107 triumph over the Spirits of St. Louis.

Other Market Square Arena highlights include the 1980 NCAA basketball semifinals and finals; the 1978 and 1979 NCAA basketball Mid-East regionals; NBA's All-Star Saturday in 1985; a light heavyweight championship fight featuring Indianapolis' Marvin Johnson; the annual Indiana state high school basketball, volleyball and wrestling championships; Elvis Presley's last concert (June 26, 1977); the 1982 National Sports Festival; 1987 Pan American Games basketball competition, the 1991 World Gymnastics opening ceremonies and the 1998 U.S. Gymnastics Championships.

Aside from its draw for athletic competition that has included ice hockey, tennis and indoor soccer, MSA has hosted concerts, circuses, rodeos, ice shows, seminars and banquets. The arena has a seating capacity of 18,125 for concerts and boxing; approximately 16,530 for basketball and 16,000 for hockey. All seats in the circular arena are free from posts and other obstructions of view.

Dining is provided at the Market Square Gardens Restaurant, located on the seventh level on the west side of the building.

MSA underwent various renovations recently, that included new lighting, a new sound system, new seats, an updated video system and new air conditioning. MSA is also regarded as one of the cleanest indoor facilities, new or old, in the country.

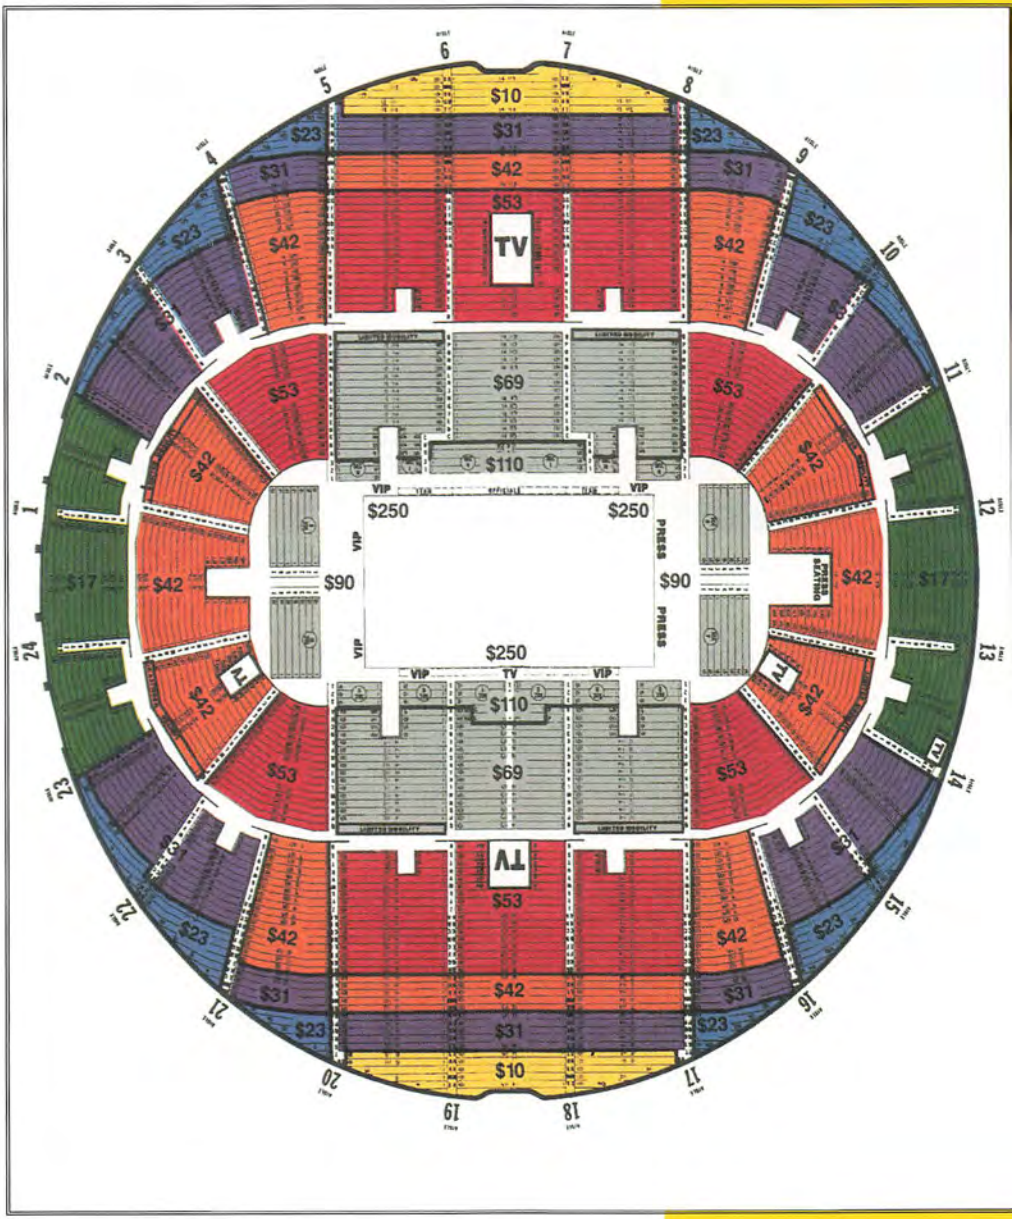
TICKET INFORMATION

Tickets, priced at $53, $42, $31, $23, $17 and $10, for all Pacers home games are available at the Market Square Arena Box Office, all TicketMaster outlets, or by calling TicketMaster at (317) 239-5151. Special group rates are available by calling the Pacers' office at (317) 263-2100.

For more information, contact the Pacers' ticket department at 300 E. Market Street, Indianapolis, IN 46204.

Tickets for all other events at MSA, may be purchased through the MSA Box Office, all TicketMaster outlets or by calling (317) 239-5151.

MARKET SQUARE ARENA SEATING CHART



CONSECO FIELDHOUSE

When the Indiana Pacers begin play in the 1999-2000 National Basketball Association season, they will do so in a new, state-of-the-art facility, Conseco Fieldhouse.

But Conseco Fieldhouse will be different than any modern arena that has been built in the world. By paying tribute to Indiana's rich basketball history, Conseco Fieldhouse will have a retro-style appearance similar to traditional Indiana basketball fieldhouses. This look will be carried both inside and outside the 750,000 square foot building.

From the outside, the simple, red brick, limestone and concrete exterior leads to a vast, barrel-vault roof similar to traditional fieldhouses. Glass walls at the top of the east and west sides of Conseco Fieldhouse will allow a view of the city skyline from inside the seating bowl. Inside the nostalgic look will be integrated into sponsor pavilions, concession stands and signage. Combine those elements with memorabilia and Conseco Fieldhouse will be the world's first fully-themed professional sports arena, according to the building's design firm, Ellerbe Becket Sports and Entertainment.

The historic will blend with the new to provide a one-of-a-kind, multi-use facility. Conseco Fieldhouse will have 69 suites (lower suites will be approximately 16 rows from the courtside seating section, upper suites approximately 28 rows from the courtside seating section) and approximately 2,400 club seats.

Most importantly is that Conseco Fieldhouse will be a building every fan can enjoy, from the moment they step into the large entry pavilion to the time they leave. Personnel from Pacers Basketball Corp., spent countless hours visiting other arenas and stadiums to ensure that spectators coming to Conseco Fieldhouse for any event would have the best venue possible.

"It's important for our fans to come to a building that is on a par or better than those being built or those that have been built in the United States," said Pacers' President Donnie Walsh. "It will be unique. We are trying to make it the finest basketball arena in the country. We've had the advantage of looking at the new arenas that have been built and taking the best out of all those arenas.

"But the real key is the experiences we can draw on by putting an arena up that will acknowledge that whole history and tradition of Indiana basketball. I think the bottom line for the fans is going to be a truly unique experience."

Spectators will find plenty of room and action, both as they tour the concourses and sit in one of the 18,500 seats in the Fieldhouse proper. Concourses will be 24 feet, sometimes expanding to 60 feet as compared to Market Square Arena's 14 foot average and a wide point of 18 feet. There will be approximately 18 to 20 seats between aisles, compared to MSA's 26 seats, allowing easier access. Seats will be at least 1 inch wider than those in MSA.

There are more than 100 points of sale for concessions, which will offer a wide variety of menu items. There will also be, compared to Market Square Arena, significantly increased restroom facilities for both men and women.

Other amenities of Conseco Fieldhouse will include an indoor practice facility; a Pacers team store; a restaurant for club seat holders and other premium seating areas; and the latest in video technology to allow spectators, from any seat, to enjoy a special view of the game.

"The building is being built with everyone in mind, not just the corporate partners who will take advantage of the suites and sponsorship opportunities, but also loyal season-ticket holders and fans," said Pacers' General Manager David Kahn. "Sightlines, no matter where you sit, have been engineered for basketball and the building will be filled with other attractions to enhance the experience of watching the NBA."

In essence, Conseco Fieldhouse will be a major part of the Indianapolis skyline (approximately 14 stories high) and a one-of-a-kind building in the world.

"Melvin and I are looking forward to tipping off this new era in Indiana basketball," said Herb Simon, who with his brother, Melvin, co-owns the Pacers. "The support for the team and the Conseco Fieldhouse has been a confirmation of this state's love for the game."

Naming rights for the Pacers' new home belong to Conseco, Inc. Headquartered in Carmel, Ind., Conseco, Inc., is a financial services organization dedicated to providing its customers with solutions for wealth protection and creation. Through its subsidiaries, Conseco is one of the nation's leading providers of supplemental health insurance, retirement annuities, universal life insurance and consumer and commercial finance services.

Photos/Sam Scott

Groundbreaking ceremonies for Conseco Fieldhouse were July 22, 1997.

The Pacers expect to start the 1999-2000 season in their new home.

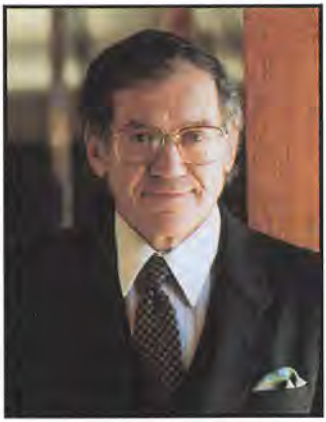
MELVIN SIMON

Owner



A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., Melvin Simon is Co-Chairman of the Indianapolis-based real estate development and management company, Simon Property Group. Simon Property Group is the largest retail Real Estate Investment Trust in the world.

In addition, he serves as Co-Chairman of the Board of Melvin Simon & Associates, Inc., which, until the formation of Simon Property Group in 1993, was the nation's second largest developer and manager of shopping centers.

Mr. Simon attended the Bronx High School of Science and the City College of New York where he earned a B.S. degree in accounting and an M.B.A. with emphasis on real estate. He came to Indiana while serving in the U.S. Army when a transfer brought him to Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indianapolis.

Following his discharge from the Army and prior to creating the company, Melvin Simon & Associates, in 1960 in Indianapolis with brothers Herbert and Fred, Mr. Simon worked as a leasing representative with the Albert Frankel Company, an Indianapolis developer of strip shopping centers.

Mr. Simon is a Trustee of both the Urban Land Institute (ULI) and the International Council of Shopping Centers (ICSC). He holds board memberships with numerous community and civic organizations, and has received many awards and honors for his involvement.

Together, Mr. Simon and his wife Bren have five children.

HERB SIMON

Owner

Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., Herbert Simon is Co-Chairman of Simon Property Group, which owns or has an interest in nearly 230 shopping centers throughout the country. The company owns and manages several malls in the greater-Indianapolis area including Circle Centre, the highly successful downtown mall which celebrated its third anniversary in September 1998; Castleton Square; the Fashion Mall at Keystone at the Crossing; Lafayette Square; Greenwood Park Mall and Washington Square.

Mr. Simon also serves as Co-Chairman of Melvin Simon & Associates, Inc. which, prior to the formation of Simon Property Group, was the second-largest developer and manager of shopping centers in the nation.

Prior to creating the Simon company with his brothers Melvin and Fred in Indianapolis in 1960, Mr. Simon attended the City College of New York where he earned a B.S. degree in business.

A firm supporter of professional, environmental and community groups, Mr. Simon serves on the boards of directors of numerous community and civic organizations.

Mr. Simon, together with his wife, Diane Meyer Simon, has five children.

DONNIE WALSH

President

At every turn last season, the success Donnie Walsh had envisioned for the Indiana Pacers when he became the team's general manager in April of 1986, was unfolding before him.

The Pacers had the best record in the Eastern Conference at the All-Star break, thus making the Pacers' coaching staff of head coach Larry Bird and assistants Dick Harter and Rick Carlisle, the All-Star coaches. It was the first time in the team's NBA history that had happened and they were joined, for only the second time in the team's history with two players, Reggie Miller and Rik Smits. The Pacers then went on to complete a regular season that was notable for many reasons.

The Pacers finished with an NBA team record 58 victories, but their 58-24 record provided a .707 winning percentage, the best in franchise history. The Pacers had a 26-15 road record, the best in their NBA history and the best in the Eastern Conference. They also went the last 63 games of the regular season without losing two straight games. Then, in May, Larry Bird was named the NBA's Coach of the Year. Walsh had hired Bird, with no coaching experience, the previous May. Finally, for the third time in the last five years, the Pacers made the Eastern Conference Finals, losing in seven games to the eventual World Champion Chicago Bulls.

While an NBA Championship was, and remains, Walsh's ultimate goal, what the Pacers have accomplished under him speaks volumes about his ability in building a high-quality team. In 1994-95, the team had its first 50-win NBA season and its first-ever title (the Central Division Championship). That was followed in 1995-96 with a 52-30 record. Coupled with last season's success, this is what Walsh has been building toward for years.

In April of 1986, Walsh became the team's general manager. His goals were simple: establish a solid franchise and build a world championship team. Accomplishing those goals would be difficult, but Walsh brought a work ethic (he rarely takes a day off) and a basketball background that would help him greatly in trying to achieve them.

When Walsh took over, the Pacers were coming off a 26-56 season and the team had reached the playoffs only once in 10 NBA seasons. Rebuilding the Pacers over the next few years would be a big challenge, particularly since two key players, Clark Kellogg and Steve Stipanovich, would have their careers shortened by knee injuries.

But, in spite of the adversity, the Pacers averaged 42 victories a season (compared with an average of 25 victories the five previous seasons) and made the playoffs seven straight years in Walsh's 10 years in the Pacers' front office. In 1996-97, the Pacers slipped to 39-43 and didn't make the playoffs, but that was due mainly to injuries to starters Rik Smits and Derrick McKey, along with key backup Haywoode Workman.

That step back didn't deter Walsh for the 1997-98 season. After Larry Brown, the franchise's most successful NBA coach, resigned in April, the 57-year-old (3/1/41) Walsh had a high-profile replacement ready: the legendary Bird. Then in the offseason, Walsh traded for NBA great Chris Mullin. The deal culminated a busy summer of 1997 that also saw ground broken for the Pacers' new downtown home starting in the 1999-2000 season, the Conseco Fieldhouse, an effort which Walsh led from the Pacers' side.

Additionally, attendance in Market Square Arena has been the highest in franchise history the last 10 seasons, capped by 1995-96 in which the Pacers had a record average of 16,438, that included 29 sellouts and a season-ending run of 13 straight sellouts. Last season, fans filled MSA to 96 percent of its capacity.

Walsh, who in 1988 was named president of the Pacers Basketball Corporation (which runs the Pacers and also directs the management of Market Square Arena), received some recognition in 1993-94 as being one of the NBA's top executives after the Pacers finished with a 47-35 record and reached the Eastern Conference Finals. That reputation was enhanced in 1994-95 with the Pacers' strong regular season showing and another appearance in the Eastern Conference Finals, then firmly established with the team's 52-30 record in 1995-96, and the re-signing of key free agents Reggie Miller, Dale Davis and Antonio Davis in the offseason. That assured a large part of the Pacers' nucleus which has led to their recent success, would stay intact.

Prior to that, some of the key moves Walsh has made to bring about the Pacers' success include the hiring of his old college teammate, Brown, as head coach; a trade before the 1993-94 season that brought McKey to the Pacers; the signing of free agent Byron Scott and a trade in 1994 that made Mark Jackson a Pacer.

Those ingredients, along with players such as Miller - a member of Dream Team II and III as well as a four-time Eastern Conference All-Star - Rik Smits (another All-Star), Dale and Antonio Davis (all players drafted by Walsh), have made the Pacers one of the NBA's top success stories.

"Looking back on it, I'm glad we've been able to get it to the point where it is," Walsh said. "I'm happy for the city of Indianapolis and the state of Indiana because I think with the basketball tradition they've had here, it's good to put the professional basketball in the mix with the college and high school basketball.

"I think we've created some excitement in the city and state to have their pro team be a contending team. So there's a great satisfaction in doing that. Now that we're at this level, I think the most important thing is to try to stay at this level and try to win a championship. That's what we're going to try to do."

Walsh's life has been spent in and around basketball.

An outstanding high school player in New York City, Walsh played at North Carolina under Frank McGuire and Dean Smith. After graduating with a bachelor of arts degree in political science, Walsh attended the North Carolina Law School and helped coach the Tar Heels' freshman team for two seasons.

After graduating from law school and turning down offers from then former Vice President Richard Nixon's law firm in New York City and the U.S. Justice Department's Honors programs, he took a graduate coaching position under Smith at North Carolina and then became an associate head coach under McGuire at South Carolina. In 1977, Walsh was about to enter private law practice in South Carolina, but Brown, the head coach of the Denver Nuggets, asked Walsh to join him as an assistant. Walsh stayed with the Nuggets as an assistant coach and a head coach before entering private business in 1982.

But in 1984, Walsh was back in basketball as a Pacers' assistant to George Irvine. He remained on the bench until becoming general manager two years later. He has since been a member of the U.S. Olympic Games Committee for men's basketball for Dream Teams I and II.

Walsh's knowledge, professionalism, accessibility and courtesy are highly-recognized throughout the NBA by players, coaches, front office personnel and the media. He is also a respected member of the Indianapolis community, serving on the boards of many charities.

He and his wife, Judy, both natives of New York, have five children and live in Indianapolis.

DAVID KAHN

General Manager

David Kahn, in his fourth season with the Pacers, begins his first full season as the team's General Manager, overseeing the day-to-day business and basketball operations of Pacers Basketball Corporation, including Market Square Arena.

Before being named to his current position in July by President Donnie Walsh, Kahn served as Assistant to the President for one season and Vice President/Assistant General Manager for two seasons. His specific duties during that period included administration of the team's salary cap; consulting and assisting Walsh on personnel issues; staying abreast of NBA developments as they related to the team, and representing the Pacers in their quest for the building of Conseco Fieldhouse, which promises to be among the premier basketball facilities in the world.

"He has expanded his role from dealing with the salary cap and arena issues to more responsibilities in the running of the franchise on a day-to-day basis," said Walsh. "David is well-equipped to work both on the basketball and business side. He has a background as both a lawyer and a journalist which gives him a broad perspective in dealing with the day-to-day operations of an NBA franchise."

Kahn, 37, (7/30/61) came to the Pacers in November 1995, from the New York law firm Proskauer Rose, which is primary outside counsel to the NBA, the National Hockey League, the Philadelphia Eagles and other sports entities. Kahn worked as an associate in the Litigation Department. In addition to his law practice, Kahn also served from 1991-1995 as the basketball consultant for "NBA Showtime" at NBC Sports in New York, working closely with the show's producers and on-air talent, such as Bob Costas and Julius Erving.

Before moving to New York to attend NYU School of Law in 1990, Kahn was an NBA sportswriter and columnist for six years at the Portland Oregonian and, during college, the Los Angeles Times. He also wrote on a free-lance basis for such publications as the Washington Post, Boston Globe and Inside Sports. Kahn earned a degree in English at UCLA in 1983.

Kahn is married to Kerry McClenahan, who is a principal with McClenahan Bruer Communications, an advertising/public relations firm in Portland, Ore. They have a daughter, Marika.

RICK FUSON

Senior Vice President/Facilities Division, Exec. Director of Market Square Arena and Conseco Fieldhouse

Since joining the Pacers Basketball Corporation, Rick Fuson, 45, (6/12/53) has been instrumental in shaping events within the arena and many sports events elsewhere in Indianapolis. For example, he was on the executive committee for the 1991 World Gymnastics Championships and served as ceremonies chairman. He was co-chairman of special events for the 1991 NCAA Final Four and will serve in the same capacity for the 2000 Final Four. He was also Executive Director of the closing ceremonies of the Pan American Games in 1987. He co-chaired the grand opening of the Indianapolis Zoo in 1988. Fuson will co-chair the 2003 World Gymnastics Championships and serve on the Local Organizing Committee for the 2002 World Basketball Championships. Both events will be in Indianapolis.

Fuson is a member of the executive committee of the Indiana Sports Corporation and chairman of its for-profit arm, Sports Marketing, Inc. He is a board member of Indianapolis Downtown, Inc./Marketing, the Indianapolis Convention & Visitors Association, the Indianapolis Parks Foundation and Ballet Internationale.

A graduate of Indiana University, he joined the staff of Market Square Arena in 1984 as director of special events and was promoted a year later to vice president. He is a professional member of the International Association of Assembly Managers. He has also been active with the Indianapolis Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the 1985 NBA All-Star weekend, the White River Park State Games and Indianapolis Downtown Space 2010. Fuson is also helping to oversee the Pacers' move to Conseco Fieldhouse for the 1999-2000 season.

He is married to 1988 Olympic Gymnast Kelly Garrison and has three children.

BOB METELKO

Senior Vice President/Corporate Administration & Finance

Bob Metelko, 53, (9/1/45) joined the Pacers in November 1984, as chief financial officer and was named a senior vice president in the summer of 1998. Responsible for the finances of Pacers Basketball Corp. (including Market Square Arena), he oversees budgeting, cash management, financial reporting, insurance and employee benefits.

Metelko graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1967 with a degree in business administration and was drafted by the U.S. Army for a tour in the Finance Corps.

He moved to Houston in 1969 to work as staff auditor for Price Waterhouse, but left in 1972 to join a small CPA firm in Greenwood, Ind. Metelko became a certified public accountant in 1973 and joined Merchants Bank as assistant controller a year later. He eventually became a vice president and controller before leaving to join the Pacers' front office.

Originally from Lincoln, Ill., Metelko is married to Belinda and has three children.

BILLY KNIGHT

Senior Vice President/Basketball

Billy Knight, 46, (6/9/52) is in his first season as a senior vice president after spending the last three years as the Vice President/Basketball Operations.

He is a former outstanding Pacers' player (the team's No. 3 all-time leading scorer), who is now responsible for helping the Pacers continue to be one of the NBA's top teams. As Senior Vice President/Basketball, Knight oversees the pro, college and international scouting, in addition to day-to-day operations of the Basketball Department.

Prior to the 1993-94 season, Knight was the Pacers' all-time leading scorer with 10,780 points in two ABA and six NBA seasons with Indiana. He was named an NBA All-Star in the Pacers' first season in the league (1976-77). In that season, he finished as the NBA's second-leading scorer (behind Pete Maravich) with an average 26.6 points per game.

He averaged 16.9 ppg in an 11-season career that included stints with Boston, Buffalo, Kansas City and San Antonio, as well as the Pacers. Knight was named an All-Star three times, twice in the NBA and once in the ABA.

Knight has also served as an assistant coach and director of player personnel for the Pacers. A native of Pittsburgh and an All-American at the University of Pittsburgh, Knight competes as a state-ranked tennis player. He is married to Linda and has one daughter, Olivia.

DALE RATERMANN

Senior Vice President/Marketing

Dale Ratermann, 42, (4/5/56) is responsible for the administration of business operations for the Indiana Pacers. After six-and-a-half years as the media relations director, he was promoted to vice president of administration in 1992 and in the summer of 1998 was promoted to his current position.

On five occasions, Ratermann was awarded the Howie McHugh/Marc Splaver Award, given to the outstanding public relations director in the NBA's Eastern Conference.

Before joining the Pacers staff, Ratermann served as the assistant sports information director at the University of Illinois for seven years. After graduating from Illinois in 1978, he attended graduate school at Arizona State University.

A native of Marion, Ill., Ratermann is single.

ANNOUNCERS

MARK BOYLE

Radio Play-By-Play

Mark Boyle is in his 11th season as the "Voice of the Pacers" on an extensive statewide network.

Boyle joined the Pacers in 1988 and brings a background rich with experience to the broadcasts. Before coming to Indiana, he was with KMOX Radio in St. Louis, working in one of the most highly-regarded sports departments in broadcasting. He also was one of the original on-air voices at WFAN Radio in New York, the country's first all sports radio station. In addition to his NBA experience, which includes work on the nationally broadcast NBA Game of the Week, he has worked in the NHL, spending two seasons with the Minnesota North Stars, and has covered the NFL, Major League Baseball and Big Ten football and basketball.

Named Indiana's Sportscaster of the Year in 1996, he has also been recognized as the top talk show host in Indianapolis by Indianapolis Monthly magazine and is a regular contributor to WIBC Radio in Indianapolis, the Pacers' flagship station.

Mark and his wife, Janette, live in Carmel.

BOB LEONARD

Radio Analyst

Bob "Slick" Leonard is in his 14th year with the Pacers as a broadcaster and lends unique perspective to each game along with his vast knowledge of basketball.

As a Pacers' head coach for 12 years, Leonard won 529 games and three ABA championships. Before coming to the Pacers, "Slick" had an outstanding playing career on the collegiate and pro levels. A two-time All-American at Indiana University, he was captain of the Hoosiers' 1953 NCAA championship team. He played seven years in the NBA with the Minneapolis/Los Angeles Lakers.

Leonard is a member of the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame and was the first person inducted into the Indiana University Sports Hall of Fame.

A native of Terre Haute, Ind., he lives in Carmel with his wife, Nancy, and is a partner in Bobby Leonard Enterprises.

AL ALBERT

TV Play-by-Play

Al Albert, is in his first season as the Pacers' television play-by-play announcer for both WB4 and FOX Sports Midwest, brings an extensive basketball background to Indianapolis.

For 18 years, Albert was the play-by-play announcer for the Denver Nuggets, dating back to their days in the American Basketball Association. He has also served as the voice of the New York Nets, along with play-by-play for Big East and Southeastern Conference college basketball.

Albert's expertise in sports broadcasting is varied. For 17 years, he was the announcer for USA Network's Tuesday Night Fights and has been the voice of the New York Islanders.

Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., Albert is a graduate of Ohio University, where he was the school's goalie for the hockey and lacrosse teams. That earned him an invitation to the New York Rangers training camp and he was subsequently assigned to the Toledo Blades of the International Hockey League. After one season with the Blades, Albert moved into the broadcast booth as the voice of the Blades.

Albert is single.

CLARK KELLOGG

TV Analyst

While Clark Kellogg receives national notoriety for his work on college basketball telecasts, Pacers fans have long been aware of his basketball expertise as he now is in his 11th season as a television analyst.

Kellogg, who has done television analyst work for Cleveland State University, the Big East Television Network and ESPN, currently serves as a game analyst for CBS' coverage of college basketball and studio analyst during the network's coverage of "March Madness." He is a former first-round draft pick of the Pacers (1982, eighth selection overall) and played five seasons with the team. Chronic knee problems forced him to retire after career averages of 18.9 points and 9.6 rebounds per game as well as a unanimous selection to the 1982 NBA All-Rookie Team.

Kellogg, a native of Cleveland, Ohio, attended Ohio State University where he was the Big Ten's MVP in 1982. He volunteers his time and resources to various organizations, including the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Athletes In Action, United Way and Special Olympics.

He and his wife, Rosy, have three children, Talisa, Alex and Nicholas. They live in Westerville, Ohio.

ANNOUNCERS

QUINN BUCKNER

Cable TV Analyst

Quinn Buckner is in his second season as an analyst for the Pacers' cable television games on FOX Sports Midwest. Prior to joining the Pacers' television staff, he spent three seasons as an analyst with the Cleveland Cavaliers. Other television work Buckner has done includes: two seasons with NBC and its NBA coverage; and also working on CBS' college basketball coverage.

Buckner is a former head coach of the Dallas Mavericks and he played 10 seasons in the NBA, including 1983-84, when he was a member of Boston's NBA championship team.

He also played 32 games for the Pacers in 1985-86. Buckner, an Indiana University graduate, was a member of the 1976 NCAA Championship team, the last college basketball team to go undefeated and win the national championship. He was also a member of the 1976 gold medal-winning U.S. Olympic Basketball team.

Buckner and his wife, Rhonda, are the parents of four children.

SCOTT HOKE

TV Host

Scott Hoke is a familiar face in the Indianapolis area as he is in his first season as the Pacers' host/sideline reporter for the team's coverage on WB4 and FOX Sports Midwest. Hoke is also the host for the Pacers' weekly Emmy-nominated "FullCourt" show.

The 36-year-old Hoke worked from 1989-97 as a sports anchor/reporter for WRTV in Indianapolis. He also covered the Pacers for FOX Sports during the 1998 NBA Playoffs.

Hoke is a graduate of Indianapolis Ben Davis High School and Butler University. He is married to the former Kelly Mingus and they have two daughters, Shelby (5) and Lynette (3).

COACHING STAFF

LARRY BIRD

Executive Vice President/Head Coach

On May 8, 1997, Larry Bird accepted the Indiana Pacers' head coaching position and a world of doubters. Could a former great player coach? Many didn't think so.

On May 12, 1998, Bird accepted the NBA's Coach of the Year award. Doubters were not in attendance. But there were 15 true believers seated at the press conference: his players. They knew better than anyone else.

"He's absolutely the Coach of the Year," said guard Mark Jackson. "It's a no-brainer. In a time when the 'in' thing may be to yell and scream, act crazy and draw attention, here's a coach that simply coaches the game, prepares his team, believes in us. He has faith and trust in us and allows us to go out and play the game and never panics."

Added teammate Reggie Miller, "There shouldn't be any question. He deserves Coach of the Year."

Much as he did as a player, Bird proved the doubters wrong again. But in his typical, humble and honest fashion, Bird downplayed the honor as he became only the fourth rookie coach in NBA history to win the award.

"I'm not a great coach, I've got great people around me," he said, citing in particular assistant coaches Dick Harter and Rick Carlisle. "I've got great people around me and everybody does their job. As you guys know very well, if you surround yourself with good people, good things happen. But I'm not in this for individual awards, I'm in this to win championships and that's the bottom line."

In Bird's first year, the Pacers nearly got to his bottom line. For the third time in the last five seasons, the Pacers reached Game 7 of the Eastern Conference Finals, this time extending the World Champion Chicago Bulls. Coming into the playoffs, the Pacers not only made the NBA pay attention, they made franchise history. They had 58 victories, the most since joining the NBA in 1976; their .707 winning percentage was the best in the Pacers' history, including their storied ABA days; they were 26-15 on the road, a franchise NBA best and had the best road record of any Eastern Conference team. The Pacers amazingly didn't lose two straight games in the regular season after Dec. 10, and through the All-Star break, the Pacers had the best record in the East, thus earning Bird, Harter and Carlisle All-Star coaching honors, as well as Miller and Rik Smits trips as All-Stars.

"You just put success and Larry Bird together," said forward Chris Mullin. "The one thing is, it just doesn't happen. The same things that made him a great player, make him a great coach – dedication, hard work, being consistent."

"This wouldn't have been possible at all if we didn't have a team, the type of players I had, who are committed, who work very hard, who come out to play every night," Bird said. "I feel I'm very honored to have such a group of guys to work with."

Bird's unflappable demeanor as a player transcended to his role as coach. He was a calming influence on the sidelines, no matter the game situation. A veteran team that had missed the playoffs for the first time in eight seasons took to Bird, much like he took to the job when he was hired.

"I didn't want to coach any other team," Bird said at the time.

He was, at last, back home again in Indiana.

Born Dec. 7, 1956, in West Baden, Ind., Bird became and remains a Hoosier basketball legend. He was an Indiana High School All-Star after playing for Springs Valley. He then played collegiately at Indiana State University, where in 1979 Bird was the college Player of the Year while leading the Sycamores to an undefeated season and the NCAA championship game. There, ISU met Michigan State and Bird met Magic Johnson. The Sycamores lost, but a rivalry of excellence between Bird and Johnson was established that would carry into and through their NBA years.

What Bird accomplished in his 13-year NBA career ranks him with the game's all-time greats: he helped the Boston Celtics to three NBA Championships; he was the league's MVP three straight years; he was the Rookie of the Year in 1980; he was twice an NBA Finals MVP; he was a nine-time all-NBA First Team selection; he was selected as an NBA All-Star 12 times, earning one All-Star game MVP award; and he was a member of the 1992 gold medal-winning U.S. Olympic basketball Dream Team.

After retiring and serving as a consultant to the Celtics, Bird's competitive edge and desire to win began to work on him. "I wanted to be involved," Bird said. "I wanted to be out there being competitive every night. I'm too old to play, so the only option I had was to coach."

For the Pacers, the timing was right. There was no place like home.

"This is my home state, this is the place I wanted to do it," Bird said. "My heart is in this. I want to win. I crave winning. Whether I'm going to be a great coach or not, I don't know that yet. I feel that I'm going to be. I feel I've got the tools and knowledge of this game to do well."

And Bird has used, and will continue to use, those tools to get to the bottom line: winning.

"I just want to win basketball games," he says. "I want to help the Pacers get to the places they've never been before."

Bird is married to Dinah. He has three children, Corrie, Connor and Mariah. He is an avid golfer and outdoorsman, while enjoying country music and auto racing.

DICK HARTER

Assistant Coach

Dick Harter, regarded as one of the top defensive coaches in basketball, joined the Pacers for the second time in his coaching career when he became Larry Bird's assistant in the summer of 1997.

Harter was an assistant coach to Jack Ramsay, who coached the Pacers in 1986-87 and 1987-88. Harter then left the Pacers in 1988 to become Charlotte's first head coach.

From 1994 to 1997, the 68-year-old (10/14/30) Harter was an assistant coach at Portland. Prior to that, he had been an assistant under Pat Riley at New York and Chuck Daly at Detroit. He was a head coach 18 years collegiately at Rider, Penn, Oregon and Penn State, compiling a winning percentage of 60 percent (295-195).

Harter has been inducted into the Hall of Fame at his alma mater, the University of Pennsylvania (he graduated in 1953) and was the first Penn coach to go into the Big Five Hall of Fame. In September 1996, Harter was also inducted into the University of Oregon's Sports Hall of Fame.

Harter and his wife, Mari, live in Barton, VT, during the offseason. He is the father of five children: Linda, Richard Jr., Jim, Robyn and Kerry.

RICK CARLISLE

Assistant Coach

Rick Carlisle begins his 15th year in professional basketball and his second season with the Pacers as an assistant under former Boston Celtic teammate, Larry Bird.

Regarded as one of basketball's top young head coaching prospects, the 39-year-old (12/7/59) Carlisle began his coaching career in 1989 as an assistant with the New Jersey Nets. He spent five seasons in New Jersey, where he had the opportunity to work under Hall of Fame coaching legends Bill Fitch and Chuck Daly. Carlisle then moved on to Portland, where he spent three seasons as an assistant under P.J. Carlesimo before joining Bird's staff in the summer of 1997.

Carlisle came to Indiana with a strong reputation in the areas of player development and opponent preparation. Last season, he assumed the role of offensive coordinator and guided the Pacers to the top five in several of the NBA's major offensive statistical categories, and was a key contributor to the Pacers' best season ever.

Carlisle began his NBA career as the only rookie to make the Boston Celtics in 1984. He played three years in Boston and was a member of the 1986 World Championship team, which was led by Bird. He then played one year with the New York Knicks under Head Coach Rick Pitino before moving onto New Jersey, where he played briefly for Fitch before being offered an assistant coaching position with the Nets.

Collegiately, Carlisle played two years at the University of Maine before transferring to the University of Virginia, where he was co-captain of the Cavaliers' 1984 Final Four team.

A native of Ogdensburg, N.Y. he graduated in 1984 with a BA in psychology. His interests include golf and piano.

COACHING STAFF

DAVID CRAIG

Trainer/Team Administrator

David Craig is in his 29th year as the head trainer for the Indiana Pacers. In that time, he has distinguished himself as one of the best athletic trainers in sports because of his professionalism, knowledge, work ethic, organizational skills and personality.

With all of those things combined, the 51-year-old (8/6/47) Craig has given the Pacers a valued employee whom many consider irreplaceable.

Craig's athletic training education began as a junior at West Lafayette High School when he began working under Purdue University's William "Pinky" Newell, widely regarded as the father of modern day athletic training. That schooling continued for Craig as an undergraduate at Purdue and during summers he worked camps for the NFL's Detroit Lions and Minnesota Vikings.

Craig joined the Pacers prior to the 1970-71 season and was part of two ABA championship teams which he cites as "very important" moments in his career. Craig adds he "looks forward to being part of an NBA championship" team.

During his years with the Pacers, Craig has been justly honored. He was the first president of the Indiana Athletic Trainers Association and in 1993 won the organization's "Professional Clinician/Athletic Trainer of the Year" Award. In 1995, he was inducted into the IATA Hall of Fame. He has also been chairman of the National Basketball Trainers Association Executive Committee and served as the trainer for the Eastern Conference in the 1985 and 1996 NBA All-Star games.

Recently, David received a Distinguished Alumnus Award from Purdue University.

Locally, from 1978 to 1993 Craig served as president of Indianapolis Physical Therapy and Sports Medicine, Inc., a business he co-founded and oversaw an expansion of to six Indianapolis area clinics.

David has two children, Jennifer and Brian.

MEL DANIELS

Director of Player Personnel

Mel Daniels has 16 seasons experience as part of the Pacers' basketball staff and, again, has provided his keen, no-nonsense, approach to basketball talent.

The former two-time ABA MVP (1969, '71), and the ABA's first Rookie of the Year (1969), averaged 19.5 points and 15.9 rebounds a contest from 1968 to 1974 for the Pacers. He was a four-time all-ABA selection, being named to the first team in 1969, 1970 and 1971 and the second-team in 1973. He was also the ABA All-Star Game MVP in 1971.

He is the Pacers' all-time leading rebounder in the ABA (7,643) and also holds the Pacers' ABA record for rebounds in a single season (1,475 in 1970-71). On March 18, 1969, vs. the New York Nets, he had 37 points and 26 rebounds in the second half, both club ABA records, ending the game with 56 points and 31 boards. In that game he also set Pacers' ABA records for most two-point field goals in a quarter (10), half (16) and game (25). His No. 34 has been retired by the Pacers and he has been honored on the Pacers Wall of Fame.

A North Carolina native, Daniels was an assistant coach at Indiana State from 1978-82 and was part of ISU's 33-1 NCAA championship runner-up team in 1978-79. Former Sycamore star, and current Pacers' coach, Larry Bird, credits Daniels with preparing him for the NBA.

Daniels, 53, who has been an assistant coach and scout for the Pacers, is an avid horseman. He and his wife, CeCe, live in Sheridan, Ind., at the Circle M Ranch. He lists his favorite horses as Ned, Sauce, Fagan and Bo.

1997-98

The only Pacer with more steals than turnovers, he had a career-high 40 thefts and just 22 turnovers in 65 appearances...he had totaled 33 steals in his first two seasons combined...his steals-to-turnover ratio (1.82-to-1) would have ranked as the best in the NBA, had he met the minimum of 50 turnovers...in his first 12 games, he logged 20+ minutes without a turnover five times...he accomplished that feat a total of 10 times...he grabbed a career-high tying three steals twice: at Toronto, 11/15, and at Golden State, 3/6...he had multiple steals nine times...in the first two months, he averaged a career-best 5.2 ppg and scored 10+ points twice...he shared the team lead in scoring with a season-high 20 points vs. Orlando, 12/26...in that game, he shot 5-5 FGS, including 3-3 3-pt FGS (tying a career-high), and canned 7-9 FTS...5-5 FGS were the most FGM without a miss by a Pacer in a single game...he added five rebounds in 21 minutes against the Magic...he was fourth on the team with 32 3-pointers and he had two or more 3-pointers six times...in the last four months of the season, he scored in double-figures once and shot 42-120 (.350), however, he was nearly flawless from the foul line, hitting 19-20 FTS...he shot a career-best 85.5 percent from the foul line...he started a game for the first time since his rookie season, logging 20 minutes vs. San Antonio, 3/29...in that game, his second professional start, he scored two points (1-5 FGS) and hauled in three rebounds...he tied a career-high with six rebounds at Toronto, 12/15...in the last two games, he logged 25 minutes and did not score on three attempts from the floor...in the season finale at Cleveland, 4/18, he had three assists, two rebounds and a steal without a turnover in 24 minutes...in the first five months of the season, he missed just nine games, four due to DNP-CDs...he recorded a career-high eight straight DNP-CDs in April...he sat out a total of four games due to injury, missing two games in November with a sprained right ankle, one in January with a sprained right ankle and one in March due to a concussion (suffered in practice).

PRO

1996-97: He had two of the best games of his career in consecutive contests: at Charlotte, 3/28, he canned a 3-pointer at the buzzer to give the Pacers a 116-115 victory...in that game, he totaled 12 points (4-6 FGS, 2-2 3-pt FGS, 2-2 FTS)...in the previous outing vs. Dallas, 3/26, he led Indiana with a career-high 21 points (8-10 FGS, 3-4 3-pt FGS, 2-5 FTS)...those 3-pt FGM were a career-high and he also added a season-high (tying his career-high) three steals in that game...he was third on the team in 3-pointers made with 29 and he ranked second (minimum 15 3-pt FGM) in 3-pt FG percentage with a mark of 41.4 percent...he had at least two 3-pointers seven times...he scored in double-figures in a total of five games...tying Derrick McKey for team-high honors, he led the Pacers in scoring in a victory at San Antonio, 11/15, when he canned 15 points (at the time his career-best)...vs. the Spurs, he added a career-high six rebounds to lead the bench...he also had six boards to lead the reserves at Toronto, 3/25...he led the Pacers' bench in scoring and assists seven times each and topped the reserves in rebounds six times...he had a career-high five assists vs. Atlanta, 4/11...he sat out 26 games due to DNP-CDs...he missed five games while on the injured list with lower back spasms, 1/7-1/15...he also missed one game with a sore neck and three others with a sprained left

1997-98

Playing an entire season for the first time in seven seasons, he was one of two Pacers to start every game (along with Mark Jackson)...in his first season with a team other than Golden State, he was the best free throw shooter in the NBA and is the second Pacer in NBA history to lead the league in FT percentage (Reggie Miller, 91.8 percent FTS, 1990-91)...his 93.9 percent FTS was the best in Pacers' NBA history...he ended the season hitting 30 straight FTS, missing just 10 FTS all season (154-164)...he averaged 11.3 ppg, the third highest average on the team...he shot 55.8 percent FGS (77-138) in November, but then hit 256-554 (.462) the rest of the season...he scored in double-figures 51 times, including five games of 20+ points...he shot 44.0 percent 3-pt FGS, the best in the Eastern Conference and third in the league overall...he hit a career-best 107 3-pointers, his first season with 100+ 3-pt FGM...with his 3-pt FGM and Reggie Miller's 164, Indiana had two players with 100+ 3-pointers in the same season for the first time since 1991-92...he shot 6-6 3-pt FGS vs. the L.A. Clippers, 3/31, tying the Pacers' record for 3-pt FG percentage in a single game...he scored 15 points (5-5 3-pt FGS) in the first quarter at Atlanta, 4/9...he scored 20 points (9-11 FGS, 2-2 FTS) for the first time as a Pacer at Toronto, 11/15, as he led the team in scoring...he scored a season-high 27 points vs. Vancouver, 11/27...his 11 points vs. Cleveland, 4/7, gave him 17,000 career points, as he ended the season with 17,047 career points, ranking 53rd on the NBA's all-time career scoring list...he became the 26th player in NBA history to record 17,000 points, 3,000 rebounds and 3,000 assists...he recorded double-digit rebounds once, snaring a team-high 10 vs. Denver, 3/1...he was the team leader in steals with 95...he had a season-high three steals 10 times and had two or more thefts 29 times...he led the Pacers in assists (including ties) once, handing out a season-best seven at Washington, 1/2...he had 21 games in which he logged 20+ minutes and did not commit a turnover.

PRO

His 86.5 percent career FT percentage is eighth highest among all active players...1996-97: After four seasons marked by injuries, he bounced back with a healthy and productive season...he played in 79 games, starting 63 and logging 2,733 minutes...he surpassed the 16,000 career point plateau, becoming the 58th player in NBA history to do so...he ranked third on the team in scoring (14.5 ppg) and was fifth in the NBA in FG percentage with a career-high 55.3 percent...that was the best mark by a non-big man (power forward or center) among qualifying players in the NBA since 1992-93, and the best among Warriors' non-big men since 1981-82...1995-96: He started the first 19 games, but then was moved to the bench to add more offense...appearing in 55 games, he averaged 13.3 ppg, 2.9 rpg, 3.5 apg and 1.36 spg in 29.4 mpg before suffering a torn radial collateral ligament in his right fifth finger at New York, 3/3...he underwent surgery, 3/6, and sat out the final 24 games, marking the fourth consecutive year he missed at least 20 games...he shot 49.9 percent FGS, 85.6 percent FTS and 39.3 percent 3-pt FGS...he scored in double figures 40 times and had 20+ points 10 times, recording a season-high 26 points twice: vs. Miami, 12/12, and at Denver, 12/20...1994-95: He missed the first 29 games after fracturing a bone in his left leg and spraining his left knee in a preseason game...then, after passing out at his home, 2/15, he was diagnosed with vasovagal syncope, a non-life-threatening condition that causes blackouts...doctors believed the problem was a result of his low-salt diet, a low resting heart rate, and low blood pressure...he was activated, 3/11, after missing another 28 games with a bruised talus bone in his left ankle...he returned posting the third triple-double of his career vs. Phoenix, 4/4 (25 points, 13 rebounds, 13 assists), while adding four blocked shots...he finished the season with averaging 19.0 ppg, the second year in a row that he had averaged under 20 ppg after posting six years of 20 points or better...he played almost 36 mpg in his 25 appearances and averaged 4.6 rpg, 5.0 apg, and 1.52 spg...he shot a career-best 45.2 percent 3-pt FGS...he bounced back from the lowest FT percentage of his career (75.3 in 1993-94) registering an 87.9 percent FTS...those figures would have ranked him fifth and 10th in the league, respectively, had he played in enough games to qualify...he finished the year with 14,243 career points, at that time more than 32 of the 59 players in the Hall of Fame...he had also logged more minutes than any Golden State player, except Nate Thurmond, Paul Arizin and Rick Barry...1993-94: After missing the final 36 games of the previous season with a thumb injury, he tore a ligament in his right hand during a preseason game, 10/30, which required surgery...right shin tendinitis further delayed his return...he was activated, 12/16, and played the following night...he had a team-high 23 points off the bench in his first

1997-98

He saw action in 81 games for Seattle, missing the game against the Pacers, 11/7, due to a contusion in his right knee...that was just the third game he had missed in the last five seasons...he scored a season-high 21 points vs. the L.A. Clippers, 12/14, and in that contest he did not miss a shot (5-5 FGS, 4-4 3-pt FGS, 7-7 FTS)...he tied that season-high of four 3-pt FGM against the Nuggets, 12/18, hitting 4-8 3-pt FGS...that was his only game of 20+ points, as he scored in double-figures 21 times...he finished among the league leaders (tied for 24th) in 3-pt FG percentage, hitting on 39.2 percent...however, his 41.6 percent mark from the field overall was the second lowest of his career...he hauled in a season-high eight rebounds twice: at Sacramento, 1/26, and at Miami, 3/3...including ties, he led the Sonics in rebounds three times...his 7.2 ppg ended a streak of 13 straight seasons averaging in double-figures...he had a career-low 29 blocked shots, but finished fourth on the team in rejections...he entered the season as the Sonics' all-time career leader in 3-pt FGM and 3-pt FGA...however, he was outgunned 127-87 in 3-pt FGM by Dale Ellis, who recaptured the Sonics' all-time lead in that category...his 1,549 career attempts from long range ranks first on Seattle's all-time list.

PRO

In his last six seasons with Seattle, he averaged 101.0 3-pt FGM, compared to a total of 182 3-pt FGM in his first NBA nine seasons combined...on the other hand, in the last five seasons, he has averaged 4.1 rpg, compared to 7.8 rpg in his first nine seasons...1996-97: He played in 81 games, all but four of them as a reserve...he averaged 11.0 ppg, matching the career-low set in his rookie season, and his 1,976 minutes represented his first time in 13 seasons under 2,000...he ranked second on the team with 122 3-pt FGM and a 39.5 3-pt FG percentage...he was third in blocks (49) and fourth in steals (69)...he scored a season-high 26 points in a 122-78 romp over Toronto, 1/15...in that game he tied an NBA record by sinking eight 3-pt FGS in a game without a miss...he received eight stitches above his left eye as a result of an elbow against New Jersey, 3/7...he sat out against Portland, 3/9, breaking a streak of 288 consecutive games played...1995-96: He averaged 11.8 ppg to finish in double figures for the 12th consecutive season...he was one of only two Seattle players to appear in all 82 games, making 20 starts...he ranked second on the team in 3-pt FGS (129) and in FT percentage (79.3 percent), and fourth in rebounds (4.5 rpg) and steals (1.01 spg)...he had two of his best games of the season against Dallas, his first NBA team...he scored a season-high 26 points, including six 3-pt FGs, in 26 minutes against the Mavericks, 3/15, and hauled down a season-high 15 rebounds against Dallas, 12/12...1994-95: He averaged 12.7 ppg and 4.9 rpg...he had the unusual role of a center whose specialty was long-range shooting...he led the team in 3-pt FGM (136), and his 39.7 percent accuracy rate from behind the arc ranked 23rd in the NBA...he recorded highs of 31 points and 12 rebounds and shot 46.6 percent FGS and 79.9 percent FTS...1993-94: He nailed 99-270 3-pt FGS, after never making more than 24 3-pt FGS in any of his previous nine seasons...he led the Sonics in both 3-pt FGM and 3-pt FGA, and his 36.7 percent 3-pt FG shooting ranked 26th in the NBA...he hit all seven of his 3-pt FGA, tying what was then an NBA record, 11/9...he appeared in all 82 games, starting 41...he recorded 12.3 ppg and 4.5 rpg...vs. Minnesota, 12/4, he scored his 10,000th career point...1992-93: He played 49 games with the Lakers before being traded to Seattle for Doug Christie and Benoit Benjamin, 2/22...with L.A., he averaged 13.7 ppg, 7.7 rpg and 1.04 bpg...in 30 games with Seattle, he started 13 and averaged 12.1 ppg and 4.8 rpg in 25.4 mpg...1991-92: Although he did post a career-high scoring average (16.5 ppg), he appeared in only 63 games, missing the final 16 contests and all of the post-season with a sprained left shoulder...he was one of several Lakers asked to fill the void left by the retirement of Magic Johnson and he equaled the best rebounding average of his career with 8.8 rpg, enhanced by a season-high 17 boards at Minnesota, 2/11...1990-91: Reunited with college teammate, James Worthy, he began the year as the Lakers' sixth man but moved into the starting lineup, 11/15...he appeared in 73 games, missing seven with a fractured toe and two others with various injuries...he finished the year averaging 13.5 ppg and 7.4 rpg, shooting 49.5 percent FGS and 82.1 percent FTS...playing both center and power forward, he ranked second on the team in both rebounds (7.4) and blocked shots

NBA TERMINOLOGY

ACTIVE LIST

The maximum number of active players is 12; the minimum is 11. At no time shall a team be permitted to dress fewer than eight players for a regular season game or nine for a playoff game. For the 1998-99 season, teams have until Feb. 19 to carry a total of 17 active players (14 on Active List; three on Injured List). As of 6 p.m. (EST) on Feb. 19, all rosters must be reduced to 12 players on the Active List. During the offseason and training camp, teams may carry no more than 20 active players.

INJURED LIST

When a player on the Playing Roster is unable to perform his duties, due to injury or illness, his name may be transferred from the Active List to the Injured List. Any player placed on the Injured List, who is replaced on his team's Active List, must sit out at least five of his team's regular season games before he may be restored to the Active List. No more than three players may be on a team's Injured List at any one time.

10-DAY CONTRACTS

For the 1998-99 season, on or after Mar. 13, a team may sign a player to a 10-day contract. This procedure may be used only to replace a player assigned to the Injured List. No player may be signed to more than two 10-day contracts with the same team.

TRADING DEADLINE

For the 1998-99 season, no trades are permitted after 6 p.m. (EST) on March 11. From that point until the end of the regular season, player additions must be made through the waiver procedure or by signing free agents.

WAIVERS

From August 15 to the end of the regular season, clubs may claim waived players within 48 hours after notice. Players waived at any other time, may be claimed within 10 days. If no team claims the waived player, he becomes a free agent. If more than one team claims a waived player, the one with the lesser record at that time claims the player. The cost for a waived player is $1,000, payable to the league.

GUARANTEED CONTRACTS

For the 1998-99 season, on Mar. 13, all player contracts become guaranteed for the remainder of the season.

RENUNCIATION OF AMATEUR ELIGIBILITY

A person whose high school class has graduated and is at least 17 years old shall become eligible for the College Draft if he renounces his intercollegiate basketball eligibility by written notice to the NBA at least 45 days prior to the draft. Prior to 45 days before the draft, teams may not make direct or indirect contact with players who have eligibility remaining. Teams may contact players without remaining eligibility, but may not discuss compensation.

SALARY CAP

The salary cap for the 1998-99 season is $30 million per team.

MINIMUM SALARY

The minimum salary changes based on years of service in the league. For the 1998-99 season, the minimum salary for rookies is $287,500.

COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

The NBA, its teams and its players demonstrate their concern for important social issues by supporting causes that help people achieve an improved quality of life. Placing a special emphasis on serving the needs and recognizing the accomplishments of young people, the NBA's community outreach initiatives include:

THE NBA TEAMUP PROGRAM

NBA TeamUp is a league-wide youth initiative that encourages volunteerism among students in middle and high schools across the United States and Canada. Now in its third year, the program has engaged more than 79,000 young people in community service projects; and has recognized and rewarded more than 40,000 outstanding youth volunteers at events hosted by the NBA and its 29 teams. The league and its players also draw awareness to the importance of volunteerism through a public service campaign and television specials that reach millions of viewers.

THE NBA AND READING IS FUNDAMENTAL

Since 1995, the NBA has partnered with RIF, the leading nonprofit youth literacy organization in the United States, to promote the fun and fundamentals of reading. Successful programs resulting from this partnership include the league-wide "NBA Reading Month," which encourages reading through incentive programs, read alouds and book distributions; and a series of public service announcements featuring NBA players.

THE NBA/WNBA SPORTSMANSHIP INITIATIVE

Implemented in conjunction with the National Federation of State High Schools Associations and the Canadian School Sports Federation, this program fosters on-court sportsmanship in amateur and professional basketball competition. The initiative includes the NBA and WNBA Sportsmanship Awards; a certificate program that rewards high school athletes and coaches who demonstrate sportsmanship; and a public service campaign featuring NBA and WNBA players.

The NBA also supports the efforts of the National Committee to Prevent Child Abuse, the Martin Luther King Jr. Holiday, Black History Month and the Thurgood Marshall Scholarship Fund.

THE PACERS BASKETBALL CORPORATION, INC.

The Pacers Basketball Corp. Foundation, Inc. is dedicated to improving the lives of Indiana's young people by building individual and corporate partnerships which will provide the financial assistance for projects that benefit Indiana's youth.

They are the most wonderful things known to man: the spark in a person's eyes upon learning something new; the gentle touch of a hand when feeling alone; the miracle of assistance when experiencing despair; the swell of hope upon realizing your injured body or spirit is healing; and the joy of connecting and helping another in need.

It is these simple, yet exquisite moments of the human experience that lend true meaning to the word "living." It is ordinary acts of kindness and generosity and timeless values that build strong communities and create a nurturing environment within which human beings thrive. These are the essence of a meaningful existence.

It is this for which the Pacers Basketball Corp. Foundation strives in its efforts to support communities in the state of Indiana. Founded in December 1993, the Pacers Foundation is dedicated to inspiring and motivating youth to become involved in community activities, to take their education seriously, set personal goals, visualize their dreams and take responsibility for their own lives and neighborhoods. By drawing on the visibility, team pride, spirit of selflessness and energy that characterizes Pacers Basketball, it seeks to touch the lives of Indiana's children in a positive way.

Since its inception, the Pacers Foundation has made efforts, thanks to the support of its many corporate partners and numerous individual supporters, to impact Indiana's youth in significant and diverse ways. It is by pooling the charitable contributions of the Foundation's "team of donors" -- thereby stretching those dollars further to have a greater impact -- that it is able to provide the sizeable resources for youth projects and programs that increase the opportunities for Indiana youth to live healthy, fulfilling lives. With a solid foundation, our youth can then go on to make significant contributions to society.

What is the Pacers Basketball Corp. Foundation? We are Action. We are Energy. We are Inspiration. And, we are Motivation. We reflect humanity in all its glorious diversity. We are what we do.

For the 1998-99 fiscal year, the Foundation will award $142,000 in grants to organizations offering youth programs and projects for the 1998-99 fiscal year plus $6,000 in scholarships.

THE HOW AND WHY OF THE "PACERS"

When professional basketball came to Indianapolis in 1967, one of the key decisions would be what to call the new American Basketball Association franchise.

According to Indianapolis attorney, Richard D. Tinkham, the nickname "Pacers" was decided on through a collective decision of the original investors. Tinkham, one of those investors, recalled that the nickname was a combination of the state's rich history with the harness racing pacers (investor Chuck Barnes was a horse racing enthusiast) and the pace car used for the running of the Indianapolis 500.

Tinkham said the "Pacers" decision was an easy one, but the real debate was whether the team should be called the Indiana Pacers or the Indianapolis Pacers. Since one of the original ideas for the team was to have it playing throughout the state with its base in Indianapolis, the official team name became the Indiana Pacers.
